

IUPUI Graduate Study Abroad Scholarships

Indiana University Scholarships

General Scholarship

IUPUI International Experience Scholarships: This award is intended to support IUPUI students in an approved summer study abroad program. The amount ranges from $1,000-3,000, depending on program length. Candidates must be degree-seeking at IUPUI and participating in an approved overseas program in which they will earn credit toward an IUPUI degree during summer term. Non degree-seeking students who are completing a certificate may also be considered on a case-by-case basis. You do not need to be accepted into a program before applying for the scholarship. For more information, check: abroad.iupui.edu/before-apply/ie-scholarship.html or contact the Study Abroad Office at abroad@iupui.edu or (317) 274-2081.

DEADLINES: February and October

Graduate Student Exchanges

Indiana University maintains exchange agreements with top international universities providing important study and research opportunities for graduate students. Applicants may be students from any discipline, department, or campus. Because the purpose and duration of the programs differ by institution, please review the descriptions of each program carefully. Each applicant must submit a proposal for a program constituting an integral part of a well-conceived graduate degree program at Indiana University. See annual announcement for list of eligible partner institutions. The award consists of air transportation and a living stipend. For more information, please contact Shawn Conner, Associate Director, OVPIA. Telephone: (812) 855-2810, Email: shconner@iu.edu. Guidelines and Application: partner.iu.edu/opportunities/graduate/index.html

DEADLINE: Early-November for the upcoming academic year.

International Enhancement Grants

Up to 10 grants of $1,000-$2,000 help students pursue academic training which adds to or enhances an international component of their graduate degree program. Training activities supported include: enrollment in a foreign language or an area studies course not offered at IU, participation in a structured international internship or a formal training program, or workshop on an international topic. For more information, please contact OVPIA at iagrants@iu.edu. Guidelines and Application: worldwide.iu.edu/students/grants-grads/international-enhancement.shtml

DEADLINES: Early December for spring; mid-February for summer; mid-August for fall.

Wallace International Scholarship Fund

IU School of Social Work: The scholarship will be given to students enrolled in the school who wish to participate in the IUSSW International Concentration Placement Program or do independent study abroad but lack sufficient funds to do so. Scholarship funds may be used for tuition, books, travel and transportation, and living expenses while abroad. The recipient will be selected on the recommendation of the Director of Field Instruction to the Dean of the IU School of Social Work. The number, amount, and recipients of the scholarship will be determined by the Scholarship Committee of the school. Scholarships are granted periodically. For more information, please contact Robert Weiler at (317) 274-6707.

Summer Pre-Dissertation Travel Grant

Stipends or economy airfare and $1,000 stipend will be awarded to support research-related summer travel abroad a full year prior to conducting dissertation research abroad. Activities supported include exploring potential research sites, archives, or other research resources; establishing institutional affiliations; identifying and meeting local scholars and contacts. For more information, please contact: iagrants@iu.edu. Guidelines and Application: worldwide.iu.edu/students/grants-grads/pre-dissertation-travel.shtml

DEADLINE: Early March

Confucius China Studies Joint Research Ph.D. Fellowship

The Confucius China Studies Program (CCSP) Fellowship offers generous funding to students in doctoral programs at U.S. institutions who are pursuing China-related research across a broad range of fields in the arts, education, humanities, and social sciences. Successful applicants will be supported for a period of six months to two years as they pursue research at one of 15 designated universities in China.

Includes: An annual living stipend (80,000 RMB, approximately 12,900 USD), host university tuition, reimbursement for the cost of roundtrip airfare, insurance coverage, pre-departure orientation at IIE's headquarters in New York, an annual research stipend (20,000 RMB, approximately 3,200 USD), and airfare coverage for a research visit to China by the recipient's home university advisor.

To be eligible for this award, applicants must meet the following criteria: Be enrolled in a doctoral program at a U.S. institution (a terminal master's program does not meet this requirement); be pursuing China-related research in the arts, education, humanities, or social sciences; have an HSK score of at least level 3; not be a citizen of the People's Republic of China; and not have extensive experience in China prior to graduate school enrollment (i.e., will not have been enrolled as a degree-seeking high school or undergraduate student in the PRC).

For more information visit www.iie.org/CCSP or contact the Program Officer at IIE for the CCSP Fellowship, Steven Dale, at sdale@iie.org or by 1 (212) 984-5346.

School of Nursing

The School of Nursing provides up to $1,200 in scholarship support for undergraduate and graduate students participating in course work occurring abroad. Through the Charlotte A. Carlley/Jean E. Schwerer Mentorship in Cross-Cultural Studies Fund and the International Learning Experience Program Fund, students may be awarded support for course expenses. Criteria for selection include GPA, an essay on learning goals and relevance of course to program outcomes, and strong letters of support. For more information, contact the School of Nursing.

O'Neill School of Public & Environmental Affairs

Graduate students at the O'Neill School of Public and Environmental Affairs should visit <https://oneill.iupui.edu/student-life/studyabroad/index.html> for specific scholarship information.

School of Public Health

The Fairbanks School of Public Health Study Abroad Scholarship: The FSPH provides up to four $500 scholarships to support FSPH students enrolled in approved, credit-bearing FSPH study abroad programs overseas. Providing scholarships is one way we can help make global learning experiences available to more students.

Herron School of Art

Huston/McDermid Gay Men's Study/Travel Scholarship
Awarded to full-time Herron students who identify as gay men and are traveling to pursue creative knowledge in locations beyond Indianapolis. Amount: Minimum of $500. Deadline: Same as program application deadline.

External Grants through IU

U.S. Department of State Fulbright Grants (IIE)

Fund periods of study or research abroad (6 months to an academic year). Award consists of travel, tuition, books, maintenance, and health insurance. In order to be eligible, you must be a U.S. citizen; demonstrate language competency sufficient to carry out an individual program of study or research; and be a graduating senior or graduate student from any discipline, department, or campus. Applications are reviewed and rated at IU before submission to the Fulbright program. Website: eca.state.gov.

DEADLINE: September, for the following academic year.

Fulbright-Hays Grants for Doctoral Dissertation Research Abroad

Support area studies & modern foreign language research in non-Western European countries. Award consists of travel, monthly maintenance, dependant allowances, research allowances, and health insurance. In order to be eligible, you must be a U.S. Citizen or permanent resident; demonstrate sufficient language proficiency; be entered into doctoral candidacy at an IU campus prior to the beginning of the grant.

DEADLINE: March

Rhodes, Churchill, Mitchell, and Marshall Scholarships

Students interested in the Rhodes, Marshall, Churchill, and Mitchell Scholarships will have to be nominated by Indiana University and have to submit an application to the nominating committee. The IU committee strongly encourages students who are interested in any of these scholarships to begin working on their applications and talking with potential referees as soon as possible. The application should include:

- A 750-word statement discussing your most important activities, interests, and honors in college and your proposed course of study.
- A 500-word statement on the your reasons for studying in the UK and/or Ireland
- A 500-word statement on the your proposed academic program
- A list of your activities and honors while in college, including prizes, scholarships, offices held, and extracurricular interests
- Two letters of recommendation commenting on your work and accomplishments sent directly by the recommenders to either Trevor R. Brown, Dean, School of Journalism, Ernie Pyle 200 F, IUB, 855-9249, brownt@indiana.edu or Edda Callahan, OVPIA, Bryan Hall 104, 855-5021, egcallah@indiana.edu.

DEADLINE: Mid-September. Interviews held within a week of the application deadline.

If you have any questions regarding the scholarships or possible programs of study, please contact the chair of the nominating committee, Trevor R. Brown, Dean, School of Journalism, Ernie Pyle 200 F, IUB, 855-9249, brownt@indiana.edu or Edda Callahan, OVPIA, Bryan Hall 104, 855-5021, egcallah@indiana.edu.

Rhodes Scholarship

Support for two years graduate study at Oxford University, Great Britain, with third year possible. Geared towards students of proven intellectual achievement, integrity, leadership, energy, and concern for others, who are in their senior year or beyond and 18-23 years of age on October 1 of year applying. 32 scholarships awarded each year. Website: www.rhodesscholar.org

NATIONAL DEADLINE: Early October

Churchill Scholarship

Support for one year of graduate study in engineering, math, or science at Churchill College, Cambridge University, Great Britain. Geared toward students of exceptional ability who are in their senior year or beyond and 19-26 years of age. 13 scholarships awarded each year. For more information visit www.winstonchurchillfoundation.org

NATIONAL DEADLINE: Early November (Take GRE by October so scores are available by November.)

Mitchell Scholarship

Support for one academic year of postgraduate study at institutions of higher learning in Ireland, including the seven universities in the Republic of Ireland and the two universities in Northern Ireland. Prospective scholars must have a demonstrated record of intellectual distinction, leadership, and extracurricular activity. They must also display personal characteristics of honesty, integrity, fairness, and unselfish service to others that indicate a potential for future leadership and contribution to society. All fields of study offered by these universities and for which students are prepared are considered. For students in their senior year who will have completed an undergraduate degree no later than the summer before they enter an Irish university and who are 18-30 years of age. Additionally, nominees must submit an endorsement by the nominating institution; an online application; a personal essay of no more than 1000 words specifying the proposed course of study in Ireland, field of interest, and justification for the proposed study in Ireland; a statement of achievement/activities; one photocopy of the nominees birth certificate, passport, or documented evidence of U.S. citizenship (a driver's license is NOT a citizenship document); ten passport-size photos with the nominees signature on the back of each photo; ten copies of the nominees college transcript (one must be a certified transcript); and five to eight recommendation letters submitted online by professors or other persons familiar with the nominee's academic progress or employment. 12 scholarships awarded each year.

For more information, visit www.us-irelandalliance.org/mitchellscholarship

NATIONAL DEADLINE: Late September

Marshall Scholarship

Support for one to three years of graduate study at almost any university in the United Kingdom. Geared toward students who have distinguished academic records, display strong aspirations for graduate study, and are seniors or within two years after graduation; no age limit. Up to 40 scholarships awarded each year, and a limited number may be awarded to students who seek to do a 1-year degree only. For more information, visit www.marshallscholarship.org

NATIONAL DEADLINE: Early October

EPA Marshall Scholarships

Students nominated by Indiana University and then selected in national competition for a Marshall Scholarship may wish to apply for an EPA Marshall Scholarship. Jointly funded by the Marshall Commission and the US Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), these scholarships will support research specifically in the area of the environment and can be in any related field. Applicants may study at any appropriate UK Institution. To be eligible for the EPA Marshall Scholarship, applicants must first be selected as Marshall Scholars, applying in the usual way, and must be pursuing a graduate degree in one of the following areas:

- Physical, life, or systematic sciences
- Engineering and technology
- Economics
- Social and behavioral sciences
- Urban and regional planning
- Communication science

The proposed program of study must be demonstrably relevant to environmental protection, restoration or stewardship; environmental public health; or ecosystem health. Applicants whose work emphasizes the study of global environmental problems, international collaborative approaches to environmental problem-solving, technology exchange programs, or research to improve international dialog regarding the environment will be given first consideration.

The Marshall Commission will pay for the first two years of the scholarship and the scholar will spend this time in the UK. The EPA will pay for up to three additional years of study, which can be spent in the UK or the US, providing this research culminates in a doctoral degree. More information is available at www.marshallscholarship.org/applications/epa

DEADLINE: See www.indiana.edu/~iubhonor/hds/epamar.php

DAAD Annual Grants:

Support academic year periods of study or research in Germany. Award consists of travel, tuition, books, maintenance, and health insurance. In order to be eligible, you must be a U.S. Citizen; demonstrate language competency to carry out program of study or research; be a graduate student from any discipline, department or campus. For more info, go to www.daad.org

DEADLINE: October, for the following academic year.

Non-IU Scholarships

- Harold Lancour Scholarship for Foreign Study: www.betaphimu.org/lancour.html
- Institute of Turkish Studies Grants: turkishstudies.org/about/index.shtml
- Thomas R. Pickering Graduate Foreign Affairs Fellowship: www.twc.edu/thomas-r-pickering-foreign-affairs-fellowship-program
- Berlin Program for Advanced German & European Studies: userpage.fu-berlin.de/~bprogram/
- East Asia and Pacific Summer Institutes for U.S. Graduate Students: www.nsf.gov/od/oise/eap.jsp#eapspec
- Postgraduate Scholarships in Ireland: research.ie/funding-category/postgraduate/
- Tuition-Free Master's in Engineering in Germany: fh-rosenheim.de
- Eurasia Social Science Research Council: www.ssrc.org/fellowships
- www.studyabroadfunding.org
- graduate.indiana.edu/admissions/financial-support/fellowships-awards/index.shtml

Note: Other scholarships and funding may be available for you to use on a study abroad program. We strongly encourage you to check with your school and department administrators for the most recent scholarship information.

IUPUI Study Abroad Office: ES 2129 B (317) 274-2081 abroad@iupui.edu	Office Hours: Monday - Friday 9:00am - 5:00pm
---	---